Care, A. J. Lawin.—Dear Sir.—The District Attorney having concented to a commission to be issued for the examination of Sr. Gonzaler, our trial goes off till the December term. To the the delay is a matter of but slight inconvenience, but I know that to you it must be a great hardship the sea being your profession, and your family here on your hands, with no other support than your own exertions. I therefore desire to suggest to you that you should go to the District Attorney, and representing your position, apply for his consent that you should be free to go, with satisfactory ball for your return to stand a trial, if, after mine, he should then desire to call yours on; or else that he should consent to discharge you altogether, prorided you satisfy him that you really had nothing to do with "beginning or setting on foot, or providing, or preparing the means for," the Cleopatra expedition, whatever may have been its character, whether legal or illegal. The fact is, as you know, that you had not and you, at teast, certainly must be acquitted, and on my testimony alone. You were merely one of the "means? provided, or prepared, by me a captain being as necessary to command her as an engineer to work her machinery. If the District Attorney is willing to release you, on being satisfied to this effect, I will furnish you ample evidence to exonerate you from all liability. Foller this because I regard it as simple justice due you; and I can scarcely doubt that the District Attorney will consent under such circumer to work her machinery if the District Attorney will consent under such circumer to work her machinery in the position. If he should wish say testimony from you against me, you will not a such a such circums and you will consent under such circumer to my interview with Mr. O'sullivan, at Sanchez's, on Sunday evening, that I was in the Tuesday of Wednesday of tried Attorney is the si

Grande:—
Mr. Cannon, the express rider between this city and Fort Ringgold, via Fort Merrill, arrived two days since, in safety, having performed his trip in eight days. He reports that he found, on his way out, at "Los Biburas," three Mexican bodies, all bearing the evident marks of Indian brutality. He says that, while he was at Roma, on the Rio Grand, a report came in that two Mexicans had been murdered, at at place called "Los Cebolias," by the Indians. About the same time, a man was killed by another party of Indians, by the name of Alfonso Ramidas, at a new place he was opening, about twenty-five miles above Roma.

another party of Indians, by the name of Alforso Ramidas, at a new place he was opening, about twenty-five miles above Roma.

A Mexican, who had been a prisoner of the Indians for about six years, entered the Rancho of Redman, about the 10th instant, and reported that there were Indians at a place called "Los Bianos," about lifteen miles from the Rancho. A party of dragoons were ordered out in pursuit, under command of Sergeant Stanger, from company C, on the next day. They found their encampment, and the Indians ready to mount and depart. A fight ensued—the Indians not recognizing their assailants, and supposing them to be Mexicans, for a short time showed a determined resistance. A few shots from the dragoons showed the savages what they had to contend with, and they soon yelled out "Americans! Six shocters!" and fied with marked precipitancy, not, however, without suffering the loss of three of their bravest warriors, who were left dead on the battle ground. The Indians numbered about fifteen.

The same Mexican reports that there were at that time a party of 200 Indians encamped at Lake Espantosa, near the junction of the Leons and Nueces rivers, and about twenty-five miles above the station designated, in a previous number, where the six companies of mounted riflemen were to be cationed. The Mexican further reported that the Indians designed making the above point their head quarters for some time, and that small parties were continually sallying forth for the purpose of rapine and nurder.

Late from El Paso.

[From the N. O. Picayune, March 10.]

We are indebted to Mr. T. W. Chandler, who arrived here on the Mexico, for Isic interesting news from El Paso, which place he left on the 10th ult. He-same to San Antonio in sixteen days, in company with Captain H. Skillman, the Santa Fe mail contracter, and Captain Easton and Lieut, Adams, U. S. Arny. They had good grass. fine weather, and plenty of water, on the route.

Mr. Chandler states that the Indians have been very troublesome since the removal of the troops from El Paso; that their depredations continue unabated on both sides of the Rio Grande, but particularly on the Mexican side, where there is scarcely any opposition to them, and they drive off cattle and murder the inhabitants with impunity. Ten United States troops were attacked by a party of Indians, supposed to be Apaches, near Fort Fillmore, about the 1st uit, and four of them were killed.

About the 1st of February, a priest and his party were stracked by the Indians, on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, at a piace called Fuento de los Indos, near El Paso, and three men were killed, and all their mules and stores were carried off. The Indians also caught a party of Mexicans near El Paso, to their hands behind them, and sent them into town, with their compliments to the authorities.

Mr. Chandler states that there was a rumor at El Paso, when he left, that a Mexican named Dumas, had been attacked mear shores, some time before, by the Indians; that twenty of his men were killed, and a large herd of sheep hey were driving was carried off by the savages.

Business at El Paso, for the want of protection, was entirely stagnated. Many merchants are settling at Pressidio del Norte, 176 miles below, and design making that the main route to Chilmahua, as it is 200 miles nearer, has more water and grass, and is safer.

The people of the Rio Grande anxiously desire to have a post of mounted men at San Elizario, twenty miles below in the desire the sound of the Norte, also one at Live Osk Creek, s there is abundance of timber, water and graw, and the soil is good.

Mr. Chandler confirms the report of the death of the Mexican Houndary Commissioner. Gen. Conde. and states that he died at Arispa on the 20th January.

A German named Jacob Mohr, who is supposed to have some friends in this city, ascidentally shot himself, near Camanche Springs, on the way to San Antonio. He had accompanied Mr. Chandler's party from El Paso, and was out gunning when the lock of his gun was caught amid the undergrowth, the gun went off and the ball passed through his neck.

Fig. Casy on the Presidency.

* You rightly understood me in expressing a preference for Mr. Pillmore as the whig candidate for the Presidency. This I did before I left home, and have frequently here is private intercourse, since my arrival at Washington. I care not how generally the fact may be known, but I should not deem it right to publish any formal avowal of that preference under my own signature in the newspapers. Such a course would subject me to the imputation of supposing that my opinions possessed more weight with the public tham I apprehend they do. The foundation of my preference is, that Mr. Fillmore has administered the Executive Government with signal success and ability. He has been tried, and found true, faithful, honest, and conscientious. I wish to say nothing in derogation from his eminent competitors. They have both readered great services to their country—the one in the field, the other in the cabinet. They might possibly administer the government as well as Mr. Fillmore has done. But then neither of them has been tried. He has been tried in the elevated position he now holds, and I think that prudence and wisdom had better restrain us from making any change, without a necessity for it—the existence of which I do not perceive.

Lam, truly, your friend,

And obedient servant,
